Dear Sir or Madam,

On behalf of the California Association of Criminalists (CAC) Spring 2017 planning committee, I invite your company to participate as an exhibitor at our upcoming seminar to be held at the San Francisco Hotel Kabuki from May 9 through 12, 2017. San Francisco offers a wide array of charm, with amazing views, outdoor adventure, a vibrant art and music scene, a history rich with forensic lore and much, much more. We anticipate a gathering of 150-175 forensic scientists from all over the country. This is a great opportunity for your organization to showcase your forensic and scientific products to attendees who are direct users and recommenders of your products. The CAC gratefully acknowledges and appreciates the participation of our past exhibitors and encourages new exhibitors to collaborate and establish ties to our forensic community.

Taking advantage of the beautiful San Francisco skyline, our seminar theme will be "No Lab is an Island," capitalizing on the many benefits of team work and collaboration. Our program events will feature presentations on challenging and interesting cases, new advances in forensic science, and a variety of relevant and engaging topics. Special workshop sessions will focus on major forensic science disciplines including firearms, DNA, toxicology and crime scene processing. The seminar workshops are scheduled to be held on Tuesday, May 9, followed by the general meeting on Wednesday through Friday, May 10-12, 2017.

Join us in welcoming and meeting new and current CAC members in the exhibition area, during seminar breaks, in the evening hosted hospitality suites, during our welcome reception, and at our banquet event on Thursday evening at the Hotel Kabuki.

The Spring Room will house the exhibitor display area, allowing for convenient discourse between seminar guests and vendors, all while enjoying the ongoing presentations. There are also numerous break sponsorship opportunities throughout the week, where seminar guests and participants will gather during session intermissions. Please review the attached exhibitor contract for additional information.

If you are interested in exhibiting, hosting a workshop break or a meeting break, sponsoring door prizes or logo-printed giveaways/lanyards, etc., or would like to participate in other ways, please contact us.

Thank you for your participation,

Committee Co-chairs:

Tamar Powell and Maria Cownan
